Subject Index

This index is arranged by subject descriptors selected from those assigned to each citation in this publication. Subject descriptors are selected from a controlled thesaurus of terms, EDB Subject Thesaurus (DOE/OSTI-7000). In order to enhance indexing, subject descriptor entries generally consist of a pair of descriptors: a main term and a qualifier term. Each entry includes the full title (which may be followed by supplementary descriptive information in parentheses) and the citation number. Additional information given in parentheses indicates the document type (an abbreviation such as B for book), the country of publication (such as DE for Federal Republic of Germany), and the language if non-English.

See references guide users from synonymous terms to the descriptors selected for the concept. See also references indicate subject concepts that are more specific than a particular descriptor. To gain complete subject coverage, all such terms should be reviewed.

Report Number Index

The report number index consists of the alphanumeric identifiers assigned to report literature as well as patent and conference literature cited in this publication. Entries provide the abstract number; the source(s) of availability of the document; the GPO file prefix for GPO depository library documents; the order number for OSTI and NTIS report ordering purposes; and, if the document was distributed under the DOE distribution program, the category number is shown for paper copy (PC), microfiche (MF), or no distribution (ND). These categories are included to assist DOE librarians in responding to requests for reports in their collections. The index also lists secondary numbers, with the corresponding abstract numbers and cross-references to other identifying numbers.

Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis (EAPA), a monthly abstract journal, provides its readers an authority from which they can obtain energy-related nontechnological or quasitechnological articles or reports having significant reference value. Citations included in EAPA are selected based strictly on content, with only substantive articles included. This selectivity in scope and coverage is effected to emphasize references dealing with policy; legislative and regulatory factors; social, economic, and environmental impacts; and with programmatic efforts.

Subscriptions to EAPA are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. The subscription rate for 12 monthly issues plus the annual index is $70.00 (domestic) and $89.50 (outside the North American continent). The annual index is available separately to subscribers for $22.00 (domestic) or $27.50 (outside the North American continent). A single issue costs $6.00 (domestic) or $7.50 (outside the North American continent).

Federal Depository Library Program

As a result of an agreement between the U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) and the Department of Energy, beginning in 1984 DOE reports with unlimited distribution are now included in the Federal Depository Library Program. The Regional Depository Libraries listed below receive and retain at least one copy of nearly every Federal Government publication, either in printed or microfilm form, for use by the general public. These libraries provide reference services and interlibrary loans; however, they are not sales outlets. You may wish to ask your local library to contact a Regional Depository to help you locate specific publications, or you may contact the Regional Depository yourself. Do not send checks or orders to these libraries.
